WELCOME TO MADRID

On behalf of the European Association for Osseointegration (EAO) and la Sociedad Española de Prótesis Estomatológica y Estética (SEPES) we are delighted to announce details of the 26th EAO Annual Scientific Meeting and 47 Congreso Anual de SEPES. This will take place in Madrid from October 5th to October 7th, 2017.

This year, we are pleased to announce that the EAO and SEPES have decided to organise a joint congress. This new collaboration will bring the international audience which has gathered at the EAO annual congress for the past 25 years with specialists from the SEPES community. In addition, the EAO and SEPA have joined forces to organise the fifth SEPA European Symposium which will take place within the EAO congress, during the whole day on Saturday October 7th.

The scientific committees of the EAO, SEPES and SEPA have prepared an exciting programme focusing on the main topic: After 25 years of EAO congresses; what have we learned?

As well as featuring world-renowned speakers, the congress will include numerous interactive elements involving the audience.

We are also very pleased and honoured to welcome Latin America as a guest region during the congress with the contribution of the Spanish Society of Periodontology and Osseointegration (SEPA). The EAO-SEPES joint congress will provide a unique opportunity for researchers and clinicians to present their scientific studies, both as posters and during oral presentation sessions.

The congress will take place in Madrid, close to the city centre, enabling you, your family and friends to enjoy many of the city's attractions during your visit. On behalf of the EAO-SEPES joint congress and the EAO-SEPA European symposium, we very much hope you can join us.

We look forward to welcoming you to Madrid for what promises to be an exciting congress.

It was formed as an international, interdisciplinary and independent science-based forum for all professionals interested in the art and science of osseointegration. As one of the leading associations within the field of implant dentistry, the EAO aims to improve the quality of patient care by bridging the gap between science and clinical practice.

ABOUT SEPES

The Spanish Society of Aesthetic and Stomatological Prostheses (SEPES) is a non-profit scientific association that brings together odontology professionals focusing mainly in the fields of dental aesthetics and prostheses. SEPES was founded in 1970 and is one of the most important and prestigious scientific associations in the field of odontology in Spain.
